The Philippines lies in the southeastern coast of Asia between 4°23' north and 21°25' north latitude and 116° east and 127° east longitude. It is bordered by the waters of Bashi Channel up its north, Sulu and Celebes Seas down its south, the Pacific Ocean to its east, and South China Sea to its west. Via air travel, the country is just within a few hours ride to Brunei, China, Hong Kong, Japan, Malaysia, Taiwan, and Vietnam.

Stretching to an area of 300,000 square kilometers, the Philippines is composed of 7,107 islands, of which only about 3,144 are named. Luzon, Visayas, and Mindanao are the three largest groups of islands. These groups of islands are further subdivided into regions, the regions into provinces, and the provinces into cities and municipalities. The cities and municipalities are further subdivided into barangays.

The country is subdivided into 17 regions, namely, Regions I-XIII, the National Capital Region (NCR) or Metro Manila, Cordillera Administrative Region (CAR), and the Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao (ARMM). The (NCR) has 16 highly urbanized cities and one urban municipality. As of September 30, 2013, the country had 80 provinces, 143 cities, 1,491 municipalities, and 42,028 barangays.

Two distinct seasons, the wet and the dry, characterize the climate of the country. During the wet season, (June until November of the year), rains shower all across the land. The dry season, meanwhile, starts from December to May of the succeeding year. These seasons bring about temperatures ranging from a cool of 18.7°C in January to a peak heat of 36.0°C in March.

Different foreign races streamed into the country and left traces in the genetics of Filipinos, likewise in their customs, cultures and traditions.

Ferdinand Magellan discovered the Philippines on March 16, 1521. This signaled the start of more than 300 years of Spanish colonial rule and other turning events in the history of the country.

Spain conquered the Philippines in 1565 and named it after the Spanish king Philip. The Filipinos experienced injustice and oppression under the Spanish rule and this sparked massive unrest the eventually turned into revolution, thus weakening the Spanish rule.

Spain declared war against America but was defeated. Following the Spanish-American War, in December 1898, Spain ceded the Philippines to America through the Treaty of Paris. Filipinos resented the new colonizer. An outbreak of Filipino-American War from 1899 to 1902 happened, and the Americans won. Filipinos still held their dream for independence and their sovereignty. Later this dream for sovereignty was recognized, and the Philippines acquired self-government as a Commonwealth of the United States of America (USA) in March 1934.

World War II broke out. The Japanese invaded and occupied the country from January 2, 1942 to October 20, 1944. In July 1946 the Filipinos achieved their independence from the Japanese. From its independence until 1972, the Philippines was governed under a constitution based largely on the US pattern.

Succession of presidents emerged to carry out the task of rebuilding the Republic. In September 1972, then President Ferdinand Marcos declared martial law to subdue widespread political unrest. He remained in power until People Power Revolution toppled his government on February 25, 1986 and seated Corazon C. Aquino into presidency. Fidel V. Ramos succeeded her in 1992. In 1998 elections Joseph E. Estrada supported by masses won and became the 13th President of the Republic. Barely two years in office, Estrada was forced to step down by yet another people power revolution on January 20, 2001. Then Vice President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo took oath as the 14th President. After the 2004 national elections, Macapagal Arroyo was proclaimed to have won the presidency despite protests from her greatest contender to the seat, Fernando Poe Jr.. Her administration survived several coup attempts until her term ended. In May 2010 national elections, by an overwhelming vote, Benigno Simeon C. Aquino III was seated as President of the Republic.

The Philippine government follows the 1987 Constitution to guide its political and governmental affairs while at the same time safeguarding civil rights and liberties of the citizens. The country advocates for a democratic system of government wherein powers rest on three governing departments: the executive, the legislative and the judicial. The President heads the Executive branch and he has a Vice-President and 24-member Cabinet to aid him in leadership. Laws limit the President's term to a period of 6 years.

The Legislative branch is made up of the Congress, a bicameral body with 24 senators and over two hundred district representatives duly elected by the people. In the last May 2010 national elections, congressmen and 33 members of the party-list were elected. The party-lists are organized lobby groups representing marginalized sectors of society.

The Judicial branch, on the other hand, is made up of the Supreme Court, the Appellate, the lower courts and the special courts established by law. The Supreme Court is composed of the Chief Justice and 13 Associate Justices. The Court of Appeals, meanwhile, consists of a Presiding Justice and over 60 Associate Justices.

In sharing and mobilizing the resources for countrywide development, the government is distinctly divided into national and local sectors. Local government sector has officials elected by the people and to serve their constituents for three years. Local autonomy is provided for in the Local Government Code of 1991 in the province, city and municipality.

⁸ The official school-age population for elementary and secondary are 6-11 years and 12-15 years, respectively. For SY 2008-2009 to SY 2009-2010, the population used in computing the gross and net enrolment rates is based on the revised population projection based on 2.04% annual growth rate between 2000 and 2007 Censuses. For SY 2010-2011 to SY 2012-2013 population is based on 2010 CPH provided by NSO.

⁹ From primary (Grade IV) to intermediate (Grade V)

¹⁰ Source: National Achievement Test (NAT), for elementary level, was given in Grade VI from SY 2008-2009 for SY 2012-2013. For secondary level, NAT was administered to Year 2 in SY 2008-2009 to SY 2010-2011 and Year 4 in SY 2011-2012 to SY 2012-2013.
