FOREWORD

Batas Pambansa Blg. 72 requires that a census of population be conducted every ten years. On this basis, the 1990 Census of Population and Housing was undertaken by the National Statistics Office in May 1990.

The results of the census are strategically used by many sectors. The size of the population determines the number of representation by congressional districts in the House of Representatives. To planners and government executives, the results of the census provide the basic information needed to effect an efficient and judicious allocation of government resources and services. To the general public, statistics from the census provide an understanding of the demographic, social, and economic characteristics of the Filipino people, and the characteristics of the housing unit in which they live, knowledge which can help them chart their own destiny.

This report, which is published by province and highly urbanized city, is one of many that will be prepared to disseminate the results of the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. Presented herein are data regarding the distribution of households and housing units and characteristics of the housing units such as type of building, construction materials of the roof and the outer walls, etc.

Other household related information like fuel used for lighting and cooking, source of drinking water, type of toilet facilities, manner of kitchen garbage disposal and presence of household convenience are included in the 1990 Census of Population and Housing Report No. 3.

The 1990 census would not have been successful had it not been for the services rendered by the various entities, both private and public, and the cooperation of the general populace. To them the National Statistics Office extends its deep appreciation for their support in this most important undertaking. More specifically, the valuable assistance or contribution of the following is acknowledged:

- Department of Education, Culture and Sports for the involvement of over 55,000 public school teachers who served as enumerators and supervisors;
- Department of National Defense for facilitating the enumeration of military camps and provision of transport facilities;
- Department of Foreign Affairs for coordinating the enumeration of embassies, consulates and missions abroad;

- Department of Social Welfare and Development for the enumeration of the homeless population;
- the members of the National Statistical Coordination Board for lending out their logistics during the field enumeration phases;
- the members of the Provincial and City/Municipal Census Boards, chaired by the governors and mayors, respectively, for assisting in the field operations;
- the barangay captains for endorsing and facilitating the conduct of the census in their respective areas of jurisdiction;
- the print and broadcast media for the generous and whole-hearted communication support;
- the church leaders who endorsed the project to their laity from the pulpit;
- and most of all, the over 10 million individuals for serving as respondents in the census interviews, and for their unwavering support to the decennial census.

The successful conduct of the 1990 Census of Population and Housing is proof that national development emanates from concerted national effort.

EXPLANATORY TEXT

Introduction

In May 1990, the National Statistics Office conducted the 1990 Census of Population and Housing (CPH). This nationwide undertaking is the 9th population census and the 4th housing census conducted in this century.

Like the 1980 census, the 1990 CPH is designed to take an inventory of the total population and housing units in the Philippines and to collect information about their characteristics. The census of population is the source of information on the size and distribution of the population as well as information about the demographic, social, economic and cultural characteristics. The census of housing, on the other hand, provides information on the supply of housing units, their structural characteristics and facilities which have bearing on the maintenance of privacy health and the development of normal family living conditions. These information are vital for making rational plans and programs for development.

Pursuant to the provision of Batas Pambansa Bilang 72, a final report on total population, total household population and number of households at the barangay level was submitted to the President and was approved under Proclamation No. 688, dated February 21, 1991. This report had already been published as 1990 CPH Report No. 2.

Authority for Conducting the 1990 Census

Under Commonwealth Act No. 591, the Bureau of the Census and Statistics (now National Statistics Office) is authorized "to prepare for and undertake all censuses of population, agriculture, industry and commerce."

Batas Pambansa Blg. 72, which was passed on June 11, 1980, further accorded the National Statistics Office the authority to conduct population censuses every ten years beginning in 1980 without prejudice to the undertaking of special censuses on agriculture, industry, commerce, housing and other sectors as may be approved by the National Economic and Development Authority.

More recently, Executive Order No. 121, otherwise known as the Reorganization Act of the Philippine Statistical System, which was passed on January 30, 1987, declared that the NSO shall be the major statistical agency responsible for generating general purpose statistics and for undertaking such censuses and surveys as may be designated by the National Statistical Coordination Board (NSCB).

It may be mentioned that Presidential Proclamation No. 497 declared 1990 as a National Census Year and called upon all heads of departments of the government and its instrumentalities to give their support and cooperation in the census undertaking.

Census Boards

Aside from the authority to conduct censuses every ten years, Batas Pambansa Blg. 72 created the National Census Coordinating Board (NCCB) to supervise, coordinate and issue such rules and regulations, as may be necessary, for the successful conduct of the census. Provincial, City and Municipal Census Boards were also created to assist at the subnational level in the conduct of the population census.

Executive Order No. 121 created the National Statistical Coordination Board (NSCB) to oversee all statistical activities in the Philippine Statistical System and therefore has taken over the functions of the NCCB. However, the NSO remains to be the implementing agency of the Census.

A systematized involvement of government agencies and instrumentalities was made possible largely through the concerted efforts of the members of the NSCB and the Provincial, City and Municipal Census Boards.

The NSCB is composed of the Director General of the National Economic and Development Authority as chairman, the undersecretary of the Department of Budget as vice-chairman, a representative from the remaining departments with the rank of undersecretary, Deputy Governor of the Central Bank, Administrator of NSO, Executive Director of the Statistical Research and Training Center, Secretary General of the NSCB, and a representative from the private sector, as members. For purposes of the 1990 Census of Population and Housing, the Administrator of the NSO is the Executive Director of NSCB.

At the local government level, Provincial and City/Municipal Census Boards were created. The Provincial Governor is the chairman of the Provincial Census Board with the Division Superintendent as vice chairman, and the District Highway Engineer, the Provincial Commander of the Philippine Constabulary, the Local Government Operations Officer, the Provincial Agricultural Officer, the Provincial Assessor, as members, with the Provincial Census Officer of the NSO as the Executive Officer.

The City/Municipal Board is composed of the City/Municipal Mayor as chairman, and the District Supervisor, the City/Municipal Agricultural Officer, City/Municipal Government Officer, the Municipal Treasurer/City Assessor as members, with the City/Municipal Census Officer as Executive Officer.

Method of Enumeration and Use of Sampling

The gathering of population and housing data was performed by census enumerators through house-to-house visit and interview of a responsible member of each household. The household was used as the enumeration unit. However, a complete listing of buildings which contain living quarters, including vacant ones, was done.

A combination of complete enumeration and sampling was adopted. For this census round, systematic cluster sampling was used instead of systematic random sampling to minimize the enumerator's selection bias. Each city/municipality was treated as a domain to obtain efficient and accurate estimates at the municipal level.

An enumeration area (EA), which is a delineated geographic area consisting of about 300 to 400 households, was divided into clusters of five (5) households and the corresponding number of samples in the clusters were obtained for each EA. The sampling rates depended on the estimated size of the municipality where the EA is located, as follows:

Estimated No. of Households in the Municipality	Sampling Rate in the EA
1 - 500	100 %
501 - 1500	20 %
1501 and above	10 %

The non-sample households were interviewed using the Common Household Questionnaire (CPH Form 2). The items asked on population were household membership, relationship to head, date of birth, age as of last birthday, sex, maritalstatus, religion affiliation, citizenship, disability, residence 5 years ago, literacy and highest educational attainment. For the housing portion, the questions asked were about building characteristics like type of building/house, construction materials of the roof and the outer walls, state of repair, year building was built, floor area of the housing unit, tenure status of the housing unit and lot, presence of household conveniences, and land ownership.

Using the Sample Household Questionnaire (CPH Form 3), additional questions were asked from the sample households, like mother tongue, mother's usual residence, previous residence, ability to speak Tagalog/Filipino, economic characteristics, language/dialect generally spoken in the households and questions on fertility for females 15-49 years old. Additional housing items asked were household amenities, manner of acquisition of housing units, source of financing and usual manner of garbage disposal.

Institutional households were enumerated using the Institutional Population Questionnaire (CPH Form 4). All population items in the Common Household Questionnaire were asked.

Information about households of Filipinos working in Philippine embassies in foreign countries, as well as those of homeless population was also gathered and their count included in the total population of the country.

DEFINITION OF TERMS AND CONCEPTS

BASIC LISTING UNITS

Building

A building is a structure designed or intended for the enclosure, shelter or protection of any person, animal or property comprising of one or more rooms and/or other spaces, covered by a roof and usually enclosed within external walls or with common dividing walls with adjacent buildings, which usually extend from the foundation to the roof.

For purposes of the census of population and housing, only buildings with living quarters whether occupied or vacant were listed.

Living quarters counted are structurally separate and independent place of abode.

These are:

1. constructed, built, converted or renovated for human habitation, and at the time of the census not used wholly for other purposes; or
2. not really intended as dwelling unit but used as such at the time of the census.

Housing Unit

A housing unit is a structurally separate and independent place of abode constructed, converted or arranged for habitation by one household. For purposes of this census, structures or parts of structures not intended for habitation such as commercial, industrial, and agricultural buildings, or natural and man-made shelters such as caves, boats, abandoned trucks, culverts, etc., but used as living quarters by households are also considered as housing units.

Identifying Housing Units in a Building.

A residential building is usually comprised of one housing unit being occupied by one household. However, in some cases, two or more households share the same housing unit as their dwelling. A building may have more than one housing unit but from its outside appearance the housing units may not be discernible.

A portion of a building or a room or rooms qualify as separate housing units if they meet both the following:

1. Separateness - a portion of the building must have facilities for sleeping and preparing/taking meals.

The occupants must be isolated from other persons in the building by means of walls or permanent partitions;

2. Direct Access - the occupants must enter the portion of the building directly from the outside of the building through a common hall, i.e., the occupants must enter the portion of the building without passing through anybody else premises.

Housing Units Listed. Not all housing units were assigned individual housing unit serial number and listed. Included in the listing are the following housing units:

1. occupied or vacant housing units in single residential houses;
2. occupied or vacant housing units in multi-unit residential buildings such as duplex, accessoria or row houses, condominium, tenement house, town house, etc.;
3. occupied or vacant barong-barong or shanties;
4. vacant housing units in residential buildings used for purposes other than residence;
5. housing units which are still under construction, but with the roofs and walls already in place;
6. occupied housing units in institutional living quarters such as hotels, motels, dormitories, seminaries, etc.;
7. occupied housing units in non-residential buildings such as offices, barns, churches, etc.;

8. vacant housing units with complete facilities for cooking, dining and sleeping in institutional living quarters and non-residential buildings;
9. occupied mobile housing units such as boats, trailers, etc.;
10. occupied improvised housing units such as culverts, abandoned trucks, caves, container vans, tents, railroad cars.

Household

A household is a social unit consisting of a person living alone or a group of persons who:

1. sleep in the same housing unit; and
2. have a common arrangement for the preparation and consumption of food.

In most cases, a household consists of persons with kinship ties like parents and their children. In some instances, several generations of familial ties are represented in one household while, still in others, even more distant relatives are members of the household.

Household helpers, boarders, and non-relatives are considered as members of the household provided they sleep in the same housing unit and have common arrangement for the preparation and consumption of food and do not usually go home to their family at least once a week.

A group of unrelated individuals, as in the cases of a group of students or workers, who decide to rent a place and make a common arrangement in the preparation and consumption of their food also constitutes one household.

Usually a household is the entire group of persons who customarily live in the same housing unit. However, there are cases when two or more distinct family groups or groups of unrelated persons maintain separate food arrangement even though they share one housing unit. Each of these two or more distinct groups constitutes a household.

A person who shares a housing unit with a household but separately cooks his meals or consumes his food elsewhere is not considered a member of the household. That person should be listed as a separate household.

Furthermore, if two groups of individuals prepare and consume their meals together but sleep in separate housing units, the two groups constitute two different households.

Household Membership

Members of the households are:

1. Those who are present and whose usual place of residence is the place where the household lives.

Usual Place of Residence is the place where the person usually resides. This may be the same or different from the place where he was found at the time of the census. As a rule, it is the place where he usually sleeps.

2. Those whose usual place of residence is the place where the household lives but are temporarily away at the time of the census because they are:
 - a. on vacation, business/pleasure trip or study/training somewhere in the Philippines and are expected to be back within six (6) months from the time of departure;
 - b. on vacation, business/pleasure trip or study/training abroad and are expected to be back within a year;
 - c. working or attending school in some other place but comes home at least once a week;
 - d. confined in hospital for a period of not more than six (6) months at the time of enumeration except when they are confined as inmates of such institutions as:
 - tuberculosis pavilions
 - mental hospitals
 - leprosaria or leper colonies
 - drug rehabilitation centers;
 - e. detained in national/provincial/city/municipal jails or in military for a period of not more than (6) months at the time of enumeration except when their sentence or detention is expected to exceed 6 months;
 - f. on training for not more than 6 months with the Armed Forces of the Philippines;

- g. on board coastal, inter-island or fishing vessels within Philippine territories; and
 - h. on board ocean-going vessels, if they are expected to be away for not more than 5 years.
3. Boarders/lodgers of the household or employees of household-operated business who do not usually go to their respective homes weekly.
 4. Citizens of foreign countries, excluding members of diplomatic missions and non-members of international organizations, but including Filipino Balikbayans who have resided or are expected to reside in the Philippines for more than a year from their arrival.
 5. Persons temporarily staying with a household who have no usual place of residence or who are not certain to be enumerated elsewhere.

Urban and Rural Areas

The same concepts used in the 1970, 1975 and 1980 censuses were followed in classifying areas as urban. According to these concepts, urbanized areas consist of:

1. In their entirety all cities and municipalities having a population density of at least 1,000 persons per square kilometer.
2. Poblaciones or central districts of municipalities and cities which have a population density of at least 500 persons per square kilometer.

3. Poblaciones or central districts (not included in 1 and 2), regardless of the population size which have the following:
 - a. Street pattern, i.e., network of streets in either parallel or right-angle orientation;
 - b. At least six establishments (commercial, recreational and/or personal services); and
 - c. At least three of the following:
 - i. A town hall, church or chapel with religious services at least once a month;
 - ii. A public plaza, park or cemetery;
 - iii. A market place or building where trading activities are carried on at least once a week;
 - iv. A public building like a school, hospital, puericulture and health center or library.
4. Barangays having at least 1,000 inhabitants which meet the conditions set forth in 3 above, and where the occupation of the inhabitants is predominantly non-farming or non-fishing.

All areas not falling under any of the above classifications are considered rural.

HOUSING CHARACTERISTICS

Type of Building/House

1. Single house - an independent structure intended for one household, separated by open space or walls from all other structures. It includes the nipa huts, or small houses built more or less as permanent housing unit and the "barong-barong" made of salvaged materials.
2. Duplex - a structure intended for two households, with complete living facilities for each. It is divided either vertically or horizontally into two separate housing units which are usually identical.
3. Multi-unit residential (3 units or more) - this is intended for residential use only, usually consisting of 3 or more housing units. This type of houses may consist of one or more storeys in a row of three or more housing units, separated from each other by walls extending from ground to the roof or a building having floors to accommodate three or more housing units.

Examples:

- a. Apartment Building - a structure usually of several storeys, with three or more independent entrances from internal halls or courts. An apartment has one common entrance from the outside.
- b. Accessoria - a one floor or two-floor structure divided into three or more housing units, each housing unit having its own separate entrance from the outside. Another name for accessoria is row house.

- c. Residential Condominium - a high-rise building where the housing units are owned individually but the land, other spaces and facilities are owned in common.
4. Commercial/Industrial/Agricultural buildings like office, factory, rice mill, barn, etc. - they are not intended mainly for human habitation but used as living quarters of households at the time of the census.

A commercial building is a building built for transacting business or for rendering professional services, such as store, office, warehouse, etc.

An industrial building is built for processing, assembling, fabricating, furnishing, manufacturing or packaging operations such as a factory or a plant.

An agricultural building is any structure constructed for agricultural purposes such as barn, stable, poultry house, granary, etc.

5. Institutional living quarters - intended mainly as living quarters of institutional population but households therein were enumerated during the census.

Included in this category are the following:

- a. permanent structures which provide lodging and/or meals for a fee such hotel, boarding house, dormitory.
- b. buildings intended for persons confined to receive medical, charitable or other care/treatment such as hospitals and orphanages, for persons detained such as jails and penal colonies, and other buildings like convents, school dormitories, etc.

c. camps which are defined sets of premises intended for the temporary accommodation of persons with common activities or interests like military camps, and other camps established as housing areas for workers in mining, agriculture, public works or other enterprises.

6. Other housing units include natural shelters, boats or other living quarters which are not intended for human habitation nor located in permanent buildings, nevertheless, these are being used as living quarters at the time of the census. Caves, old railroad cars, other natural shelters and mobile housing units such as trailers, barges, cars, boats, etc., fall within this category.

Construction Materials of the Roof

The kind of materials used are as follows:

1. Galvanized Iron/Aluminum
2. Tile/Concrete/Clay Tile
3. Half Galvanized Iron and Half Concrete
4. Wood
5. Cogon/Nipa/Anahaw
6. Asbestos
7. Makeshift/Salvaged/Improvised Materials
8. Others

Construction Materials of the Outer Walls

The kind of materials used are as follows:

1. Concrete/Brick/Stone
2. Wood
3. Half Concrete/Brick/Stone and Half Wood
4. Galvanized Iron/Aluminum
5. Bamboo/Sawali/Cogon/Nipa
6. Asbestos
7. Glass
8. Makeshift/Salvaged/Improvised Materials
9. Others
10. No Walls

Condition of Building (State of Repair)

The current condition of the building/house may be any of the following:

1. Needs no repair/needs minor repair - This building is usually new or has a good building maintenance i.e., no deterioration is apparent from the outside.
2. Needs major repair - The building cannot fully protect the occupants from the elements (rain, wind, temperature, etc.). It may have cracks in the interior walls, leaking roofs, holes on the floors, broken windows, etc. which can only be mended by major repair.
3. Dilapidated/condemned - This building is beyond repair. Dilapidated parts are found on pillars, roofs and outer walls needing renovation. Condemned buildings wherein sub-standard materials/procedures were used in the construction, or which are structurally defective are also included here.

4. Under renovation/being repaired - This building was fully constructed and finished but being repaired at the time of the census for some deterioration or damage. Also included are buildings being renovated to make additional structures or to modify/repair existing structures.

5. Under construction - Construction work was started but not yet completed and still going on.

Construction means all on-site work, from site preparation, excavation, foundation, assembly of all components and installation of utilities and equipment of buildings/structures.

6. Unfinished construction - This is a partly constructed building but at the time of visit construction was temporarily or permanently stopped. No construction activity was going on for quite sometime.

Year Building/House was Built

The year the building was built refers to the year when construction was completed and ready for occupancy and not when construction began. Generally, building constructions are finished within the same year, although there are cases when the period of construction extends to several years. Report the year when the building was finished. If the building is not yet finished but there are already occupants, report the year when it was first occupied.

Floor Area of the Housing Unit

Floor area refers to the space enclosed by the exterior walls of the housing unit. In case of several floors, the area of each floor in square meters are added together to get the total floor area of the housing unit.

Tenure Status of the Housing Unit

The housing unit may be:

1. Owned/Being Amortized - The household is the owner and has legal possession of the housing unit, or the household claims to own it. Includes also housing units which are being amortized or on mortgage.
2. Rented - The occupant actually pays rent either in cash or in kind.
3. Being occupied for free with consent of owner - The household occupies the housing unit with owner's permission and without paying any rent in cash or in kind to the owner, tenant/lessee or subtenant/sublessee.

These are usually the households of farm tenants or lessees who occupy rent-free houses belonging to the owner of the land they farm; also those employees given free housing as part of fringe benefits but must vacate the housing unit upon separation from work.

4. Being occupied for free without consent of owner - The household occupies the housing unit without the consent or knowledge of the owner. Examples are squatters who occupy public and private buildings.

Tenure Status of the Lot

The question on tenure status of the lot was asked only if the household owns the housing unit. The status of the lot are as follows:

1. Owned/Being Amortized - Ownership of land in rural areas includes mere occupancy of any public land. This also includes house owners paying the land on installment basis or holders of certificates of land title under the Land Reform Program or house/lot awardees of housing loans from PAG-IBIG, SSS, GSIS or commercial banks.
2. Rented - A fixed amount is paid by the occupant in cash or in kind.
3. Occupied for free with consent of owner - The household occupies the lot with the permission of the owner and without paying any rent in cash or in kind to the owner, tenant/lessee or subtenant/sublessee.
4. Occupied for free without consent of owner - The household occupies the lot without the consent or knowledge of the owner.

Mode of Acquisition of Housing Unit

A housing unit may be acquired on the following terms:

1. Purchased
2. Constructed by the owner/occupant with or without help of friends/relatives.
3. Constructed by hired/skilled worker - The owner took charge of purchasing construction materials and directly supervising the construction of the housing unit.

4. Constructed by organized contractor. The owner entered into a contract with a general contractor for the latter to supply either labor only or both labor and materials.
5. Inherited
6. Others (lottery, gift, etc.)

Sources of Financing

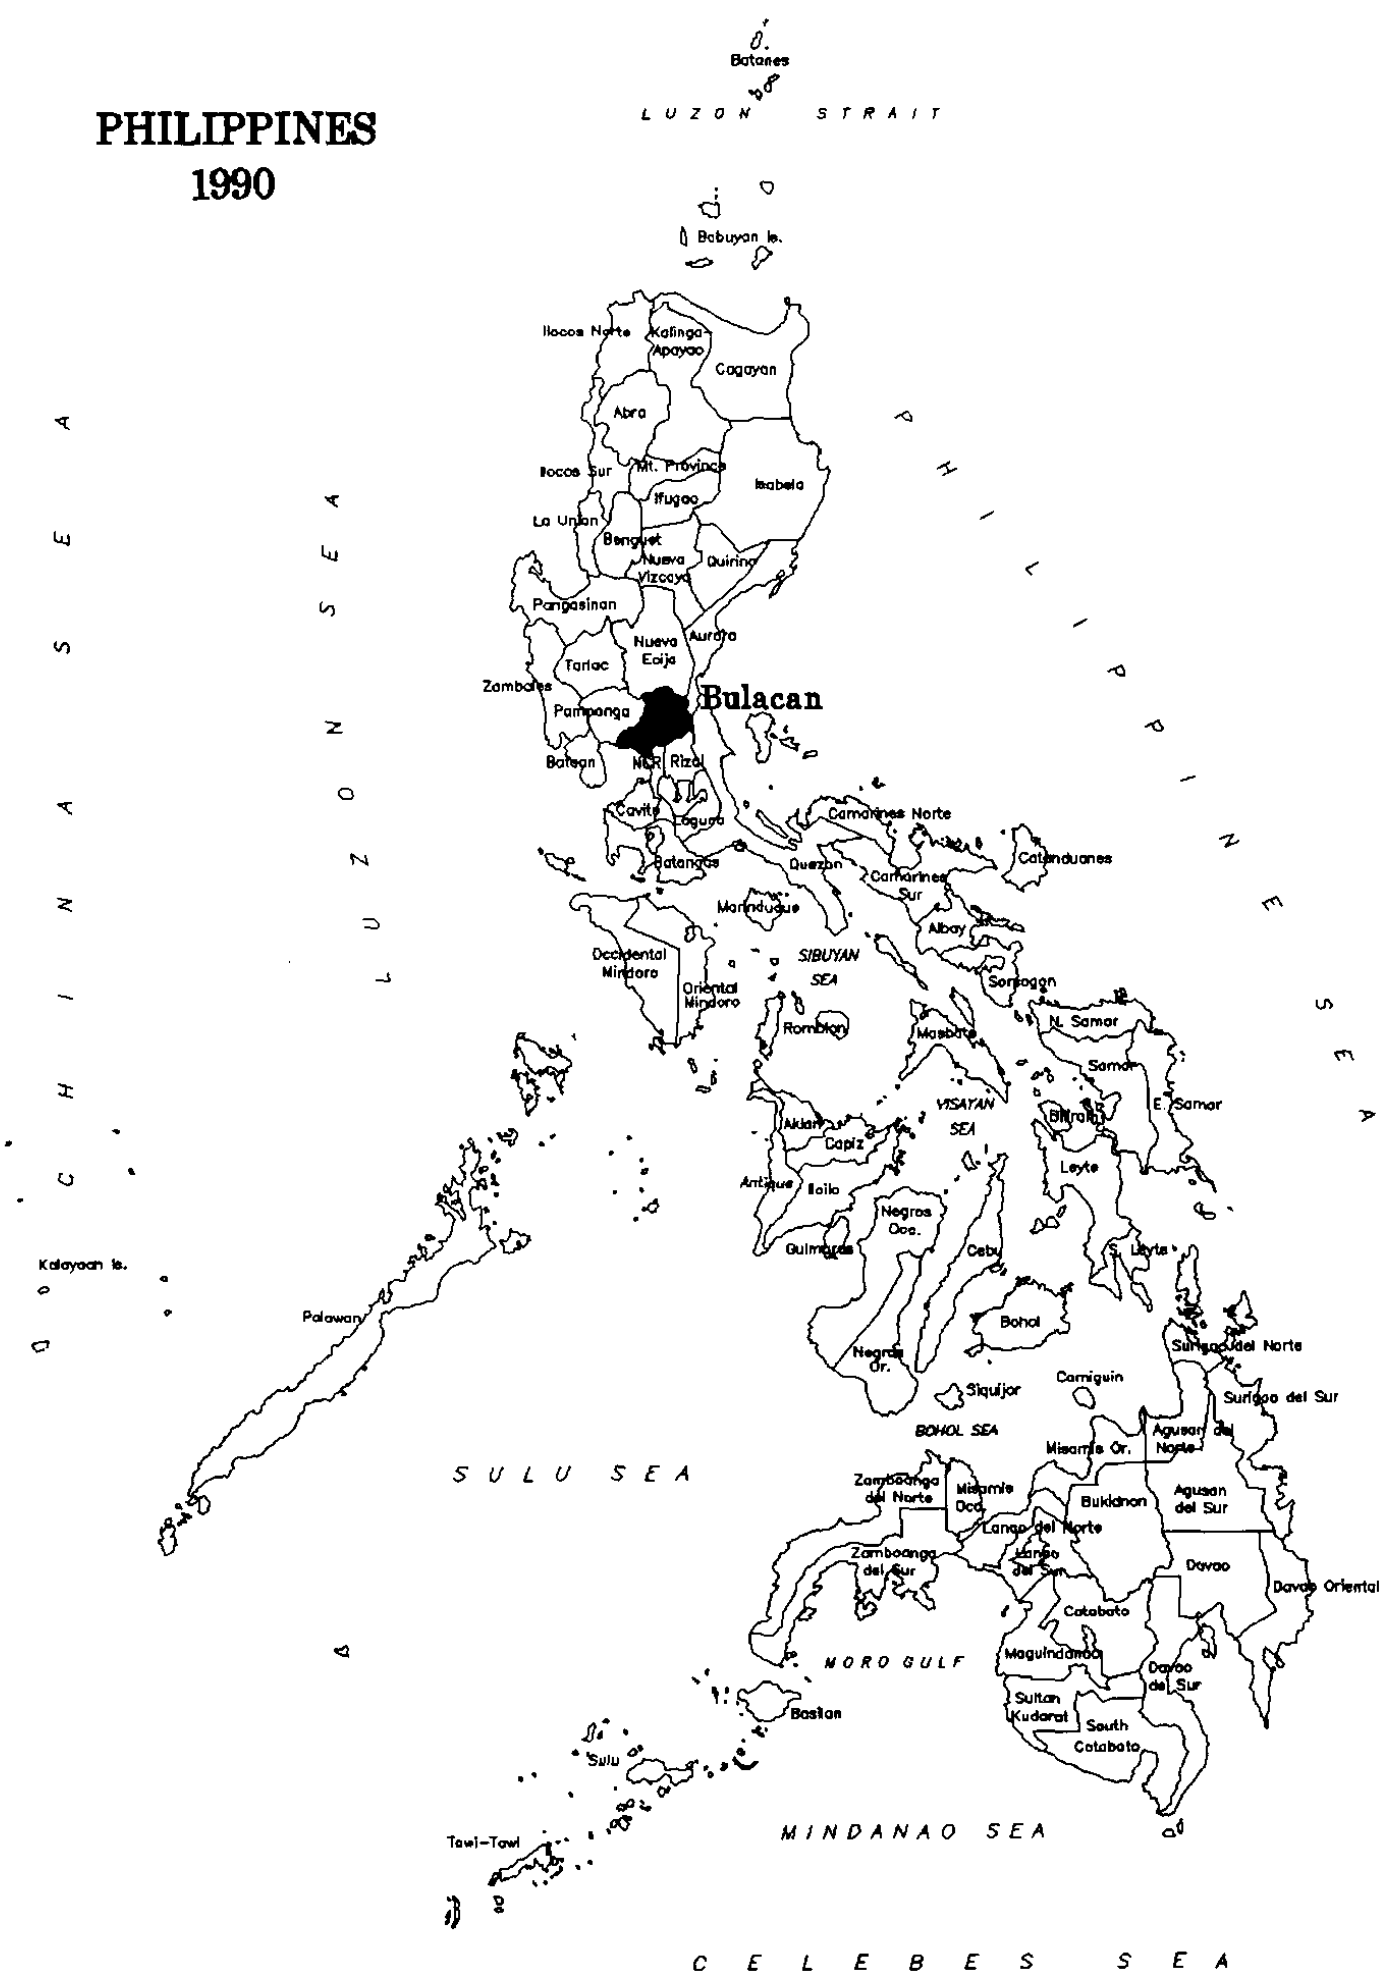

The different sources of financing are:

1. Own resources/interest-free loans from relatives/friends
2. Government assistance: PAG-IBIG, GSIS, DBP, etc.
3. Private banks/foundations/cooperatives
4. Employer assistance
5. Private persons
6. Others

Monthly Rental of Housing Unit and/or Lot

The total monthly rental of the housing unit excludes rental for furnishings and payment for electricity and water.

- The province of Bulacan has a total of 278,992 occupied housing units in 1990 for 287,890 households giving a ratio of 1.032 households per housing unit.
- A greater proportion of the housing units were built of strong materials both for roofing (88.4 percent) and for outer walls (88.8 percent). The proportion of housing units that do not need repair, or if at all a minor one only, is relatively high at 71.4 percent.
- Almost one-half of the housing units are of recent construction, that is, built after 1980.
- Census results also show that 56.4 percent of the housing units in Bulacan are with limited floor area of less than 30 square meters. Approximately 27.6 percent measure 30-69 square meters, while 16.0 percent are spacious units (70 square meters and over).
- Of the 287,890 households in the province, 82.0 percent own their housing units, 68.2 percent of which also own the lot where the unit is erected.
- Among those who own their housing units, 91.4 percent constructed their houses from own resources; 4.0 percent with funds from government financing schemes; and 2.7 percent through private persons or banks.
